“Little Pnuts” Partners With Green Air Project

A subscription toy company featuring organic, sustainable, natural and eco-friendly toys, "Little Pnuts" partnered with Green Air Project.

Orlando, FL (PRWEB) June 29, 2012

Little Pnuts, a subscription toy company, announces today that it has partnered with Social Change Organization, Green Air Project.

Through this newly created partnership Little Pnuts is committed to make a donation for every new subscription made in 2012. Totals are calculated quarterly and, new trees are planted. Little Pnuts commitment can be tracked on the GreenAirProject.org website by entering verification code (KADE413).

The partnership is sure to be successful. Little Pnuts Founder Melissa Pia Bossola Beese comments that, “We are so honored to be able to partner with a company that, like Little Pnuts, is aiming to make a difference today and has a goal to create a brighter tomorrow. We want to provide an amazing future and healthy world for our Little Pnuts to imagine, create and play in.”

Little Pnuts is a subscription based toy company with all natural toys and books aimed toward helping your little pnuts meet each and every developmental milestone through imagination, creativity, and play. Learn more HERE.

Green Air Project (greenairproject.org) is a dynamic social change organization that enables individuals and businesses reduce their harsh impact on the environment cost effectively. GAP does this by providing a model of combined positive net effect that brings as economy of scale to social change.
